

Brooke Taylor

For nearly a decade, Brooke Taylor was the co-host of the "Family Friendly Morning Show" on 95.5 The Fish in Cleveland, OH. As a Catholic broadcaster in a predominately Protestant setting, Brooke learned to not only defend the faith, but to share the beauty of the Catholic tradition with thousands. Brooke is the founder of "The Mom Squad," a ministry of women from all walks of life, blogging, hosting retreats and workshops aimed at building a sisterhood of believers for Christ.

During her career, Brooke has interviewed such notables as the Rev. Franklin Graham, Newt Gingrich, James Dobson, Raymond Arroyo, Michael W. Smith, and many more. In addition to her duties at The Fish, Brooke has hosted the Ms. Wheelchair USA pageant and has emceed the Cleveland National Right to Life Symposium, moderated political and religious panels and has spoken at MOPS conferences and Christian women's events. Brooke was selected as a judge for a national music contest for the Hollywood motion picture "Grace Unplugged" and has appeared on syndicated radio programs such as the Michael Medved Show and the Hugh Hewitt show. Brooke is also involved in the ministry Food for the Poor and has traveled to Guatemala and Haiti to raise awareness and funds for the poorest of the poor. Brooke also led a pilgrimage to Italy for the canonization of St. Pope John Paul II and St. John XXIII.

Brooke and her Army Veteran husband Jim have five children: four sons and a daughter they adopted from Poland. Brooke frequently speaks to groups on the topics of motherhood and family life, the gift of the Catholic faith, adoption, special needs, and her own reversion story. As an in-demand speaker, Brooke relates to women through humor, stories of struggle and the transforming graces of the sacraments. Brooke also maintains a blog shares stories of her day-to-day adventures at "The Sacred Sink."

"Simply stated, Brooke Taylor is captivating! She has a natural gift for speaking right to your soul as she inspires you to live your life more for God."
